Dear Catholic Educators,

We invite you and/or whomever you believe is an appropriate person in your school community to participate in a Symposium on Global Mission to be held

Sunday, October 2, 2:00-4:00 pm

in the LeRoux Room of the Seattle University Student Center.

Father Roger Schroeder will be the keynote speaker at the symposium. A Divine Word Missionary who is chair of Catholic Mission Studies at Catholic Theological Union in Chicago (see reverse), he will address the meaning of global mission today.

Following Father Schroeder's presentation, symposium participants will have an opportunity to engage in small group discussions on mission-related questions such as:

- ❖ What is the most pressing reality in mission today?
- ❖ The world has changed so much since Maryknoll was established 100 years ago. How does the current global reality impact mission today?

We will conclude the afternoon by providing you with reference tools and contact information to help us all to be more effective missionaries in a global context.

The symposium is being held in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the Maryknoll Fathers & Brothers, the largest missionary society in the United States. Maryknoll members, supporters and friends will observe the society's centenary at the noon Mass on Sunday, Sept. 25, at St. James Cathedral. Archbishop Peter Sartain will celebrate the Mass with a reception following immediately in the Cathedral Hall. All are welcome.

Meanwhile, please let us know at your earliest convenience who will be representing your school at the Oct. 2 Symposium on Global Mission. Kindly RSVP online at <http://maryknoll.us> or by calling 206.322.8831. Space is limited, so please RSVP as soon as possible.

We look forward to seeing you and/or other leaders from your community at the symposium at Seattle University on October 2.

Yours in Christ,
