*Join us for the 2012 Educational Conference
on Saturday, April 28, 2012
8:00 am to 12:00 pm*

This conference is open to educators, administrators, parents, tutors and anyone with a desire to make a difference in children/adults with learning challenges. Join us for this informative educational conference.

Literacy builds on a foundation of oral language skills that include phonology, grammar, semantics and vocabulary, and pragmatics. In the session The Meaning Connection in Reading and Writing, Dr. Palmer will discuss ways to build vocabulary, a foundational skill in reading and writing.

Dr. Nancy Cushen White will present The Reading Brain - a discussion of the interrelationship of each of the circuit components of the brain (phonology, orthography, and morphology) and provide a rationale for teacher training to include evidence-based strategies for teaching all of these essential elements.

ABOUT THE PRESENTERS:

Mary Jane Palmer, Ed.D. is a Speech and Language Pathologist in the San Diequito Union High School District in Encinitas CA, a member of American Speech Hearing Association (ASHA), a mentor of teachers and a Certified Instructor of Teachers in the Slingerland® Approach.

Nancy Cushen White, Ed.D. is an Associate Clinical Professor in the Department of Pediatrics, School of Medicine, University of California San Francisco. She is a consultant, lecturer, educational therapist and a Certified Instructor of Teachers in the Slingerland® Approach.
