May 16

Demystifying Assessment Reports: Make sense of what your child needs

Dr. Angela Hungelmann and Dr. Yumi Hiraga will discuss the ins and outs of neuropsychological / comprehensive learning assessment. What types of measures are typically included in a neuropsychological evaluation? What types of learning/ attention/ processing issues can be detected? Dr. Hungelmann and Dr. Hiraga will discuss how the results from such an evaluation might indicate ADHD, executive functioning deficits, or a learning disability. Finally, they will discuss how this information can be useful in terms of educational planning.
