

INSTITUTE FOR CATHOLIC THOUGHT AND CULTURE

where faith engages the world and reason illuminates tradition

presents the

2013-2014 Catholic Heritage Lectures

a lecture series that examines the roots of the Church's call for engagement with religions

Philipp Renczes, S.J.

Director, Cardinal Bea Centre for Judaic Studies

Gregorian University, Rome

"A Vision Meant to Stay 'Centered':

Cardinal Augustin Bea S.J., Vatican II and the Cardinal Bea Centre"

October 8, 2013

José Casanova, Ph.D.

Professor, Department of Sociology

Georgetown University

"The Church in a Global Pluralistic World: Challenges and Opportunities"

February 13, 2014

Catherine Cornille, Ph.D.

Professor & Chair, Theology Department

Boston College

"Challenges for Interreligious Dialogue in the Church Today"

April 10, 2014

7 PM

Pigott Auditorium, Seattle University

RSVP at seattleu-ictc.brownpapertickets.com

Questions at ICTC@seattleu.edu

SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

Additional ICTC Sponsored Events

October 9

12:00-1:30 PM

Casey Commons

Please join Beatrice Lawrence, Ph.D., Assistant Professor in Theology and Religious Studies, as she shares her perspective as a scholar of Judaism and the Hebrew Bible on the dominant approach to the Jewish-Christian dialogue. Philipp Renczes, S.J., and those present will be invited to respond to her presentation.

October 23

12:00-1:30 PM

STCN 160 LeRoux

Rabbi Anson Laytner, Jeanette Rodriguez, Ph.D. and Andrew Davis, Ph.D. will complete the conversation about Jewish-Christian dialogue with a panel and community discussion on the relationship of the Jewish faith and Christianity.

October 30

12:00-1:30 PM

STCN 160 LeRoux

Members of the Summer Faculty Study Group on “Catholicism and the Body” invite you to take part in an on-going effort to create a culture of civil discourse about potentially contentious issues. Join them as they share and continue the rich conversation begun at the summer study group.

RSVP at ICTC@seattleu.edu

Questions? Emily Holt 206-220-8270