

POSITIVE BEHAVIORAL INTERVENTIONS & SUPPORTS FOR ADMINISTRATORS

Presented by VANESSA TUCKER

- Principals must effectively lead their buildings and teams to implement Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) at all levels from the most general, universal interventions to those that apply only to the very few and most intensive situations. In this three part series, participants will explore the requirements for making important decisions about the provision of special education services for students who demonstrate challenging behaviors. These three classes will include the evaluation process, functional behavior assessment and positive behavior intervention planning procedures, and common evidence-based practices designed to prevent and replace.

These courses will address decision-making processes as well as rules and guidelines for suspension and expulsions as well as the manifestation determination process. These courses are designed for the school principal and/or district level administrator charged with leading school teams to make decisions about and serve children who demonstrate challenging behaviors, P-12
