

Getting ready to Read

June 15-16
2015

Monday &
Tuesday
8:30 am to 3:30 pm

At: Assumption St. Bridget School
6220 32nd Avenue NE
Seattle, WA 98115

10-hour Course Content:

- ◆ Understand oral language development and its relationship to beginning reading skills
- ◆ Develop and implement phonological awareness activities
- ◆ Teach sight, sound, and feel of each letter of the alphabet
- ◆ Assess progress of beginning readers

Course Content:

Instruction based on the work of Beth H. Slingerland for professionals working with preschool through first grade students. The content of the course includes some precursors to formal reading oral language development, phonemic awareness, and the sight, sound and form of each letter of the alphabet. These beginning multisensory skills can prevent failure and give children the foundation needed for future success with formal reading, writing and spelling.

- The understanding of what children need to know before they learn to read
- The normal development of oral language
- Oral language skills — listening and speaking
- Phonological awareness activities in the classroom
- The sight, sound, form and key-word of each letter of the alphabet
- The major components of reading acquisition
- Current assessment strategies for beginning readers
- Indicators of reading problems and characteristics of language/learning disabilities

Participant comments and reviews

Here's what some of our recent course participants said:

"The actual modeling and practicing was great for me since I learn best by actually getting up and doing!"

"I can see why children are so successful. Slingerland works!"

"I learned great phonemic awareness and multisensory reading strategies that I will be able to immediately implement in my classroom!"
