MISSIONARY DISCIPLESHIP
GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP
CATHOLIC IDENTITY
AS A CRS
global high school

Rooted in partnership,
Catholic Relief Services' Global High School program strengthens the Catholic identity of Catholic high schools in the United States, encourages high school students into active global citizenship and engages the entire school community in the mission of Catholic social teaching.

Catholic schools form disciples, not just learners. This distinction denotes the centrality of Jesus Christ in the work and mission of Catholic schools. This mission acknowledges that we are all called by our Baptism to serve the most vulnerable and uphold the human dignity of all people. By embracing Catholic social teaching, we prepare students to be missionaries of our faith to the world.

By participating in the international humanitarian work of Catholic Relief Services, students recognize the Church's commitment to serve the most vulnerable. Accept the challenge to provide students with the opportunity to engage, through their faith, in the Catholic Church's active response to issues of poverty, disease, violence and injustice.
