

CONNECT. INVESTIGATE. IMPLEMENT.

Join us this fall at UCDS for two, nine-week professional development courses

Student Voice: Empowering Learners and Energizing Classrooms

Designing a Culture of Inquiry

THE UCDS TEACHER EDUCATION CENTER LAUNCHES QUARTER LONG PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT COURSES

The UCDS Teacher Education Center is excited to announce the launch of quarter-long, credit-bearing courses this fall. UCDS will offer two courses, each exploring the intersection of school culture with classroom content.

Connect with a cohort of collegial practitioners and create a network of resources as you continue your careers.

Investigate new ideas and deepen your understanding through highly interactive classes that are focused on practical applications in the classroom.

Implement strategies, projects and skills, reflect on experiences and brainstorm with colleagues about next steps and extensions. These nine-week courses are designed for current educators to delve into a subject with the goal of positively affecting classroom culture, instruction, differentiation and assessment.

We promise to make the experience relevant, fun and interactive. We want you to be as excited about the courses as we are.

Student Voice: Empowering Learners & Energizing Classrooms

Saturday, September 23 from 9:00am-1:00pm
Tuesdays, Sept. 26; Oct. 3, 10, 17, 24; Nov. 7, 14 4:30-6:30pm at UCDS

$490 (all course materials included), plus the option of two continuing education credits ($110), or 20 clock hours ($40)

Designing a Culture of Inquiry

Saturday, October 7 from 9:00am-1:00pm
Thursdays, Oct. 12, 19, 26; Nov. 2, 9, 30; Dec 7 4:30-6:30pm at UCDS

$490 (all course materials included), plus the option of two continuing education credits ($110), or 20 clock hours ($40)